"IN THIS EMERGENCY, TOO"

We say "This Emergency, Too," because the war, after all, is but another emergency in human events to the Salvation Army. It is, of course, a major event, as the facts and figures in this accounting of war-service work to the end of September last show.

While it is now commonly stated that the government is financing the war-service work of the Salvation Army, the Y.M.C.A., etc., our people hardly look at it just that way. Rather, we take the view as a matter of policy that it is still the public that is providing the wherewithal to carry on the work the Salvation Army is able to do—Territorial Headquarters Salvation Army.

Sergt. Edward Norman Costigan, No. R61012, son of Mrs. J. T. Costigan, of Stettler, and brother of T. J. Costigan, Blainmore barrister, is reported missing after air operations overseas.

A penalty of $5,000 fine has been provided for those who fail to return toothpaste and shaving cream tubes, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has announced. It will constitute a breach of regulations to destroy or throw away used tubes which have contained toothpaste, shaving cream, ointment, lotions and similar products. It is mandatory that a person turn in all such metal tubes as soon as empty to a drug, cigar, general or departmental store.

"ARMY WEEK" PROGRAMME

On Monday, 29th June, 1942, "Soldiers Day," the public will be asked to pay tribute to the Canadian Soldier in the following manner:

(a) By forwarding gifts and parcels to men in the Army.

(b) Public-spirited citizens and organizations will arrange special entertainments for the soldiers.

(c) The public will be asked on this day to write to a relative or friend serving in the armed forces, whose sacrifice has removed him from the sphere of his former surroundings.

(d) Members of service clubs will be asked to invite soldiers to be their guests at the service club luncheon.

(e) It is hoped that members of the Canadian Army (other ranks) will be invited to be the guest speakers at service club luncheons.

(f) It is anticipated that the general theme of this day will be greatly augmented by various local events.

While these events should be initiated on Monday, they might be continued to advantage throughout the week, and the duration of the war.

Tuesday will be observed as Civilian Day, Wednesday as United Services Day, Thursday as open for arrangements, Friday as Reserve Army Day, Saturday as United Nations Day, and Sunday a Day of Prayer, when all churches will be expected to dedicate their services to prayer for men in the armed forces and for the successful conclusion of the war.

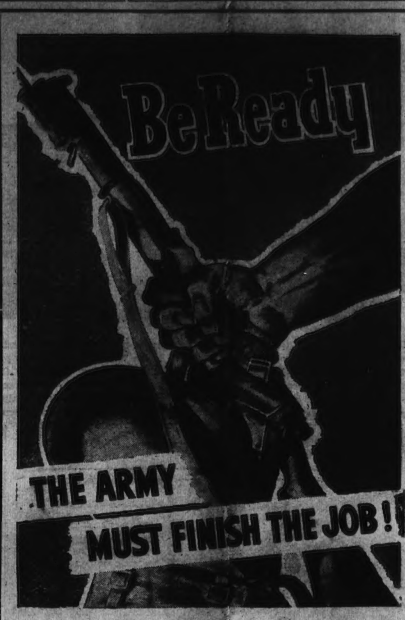

Army Week has developed at the demand of the people, and the extent of its success will be dependent on the continuance of the spontaneous fervor with which it started.

GOOD WISHES NOT SUFFICIENT

Canadian weekly newspapers received letters of thanks from Red Cross national headquarters for the co-operation and support given in the recent appeal for funds. The service a weekly newspaper gives is often overlooked as a publicity booster for many community activities. Too many think it can live on good wishes. It takes money and effort to make a weekly of value to a town—Coleman Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lange, of Wallace, Idaho, visited friends in town over the week, leaving for home on Monday. It is seventeen years since Mr. Lange left Blainmore for new pastures.

The new legal term "or either of them," must have been the product of little Maynard. And now, while we are at war, why bring up such nonsense as the percentage of butterfat in milk or cream. Let's fight this war, and get down to that silly stuff after it's all over. There's no one worrying over the half cent on the price of milk or cream—we are worrying more over the lives of those boys who have volunteered to make life sweeter for us.

ARMY WEEK

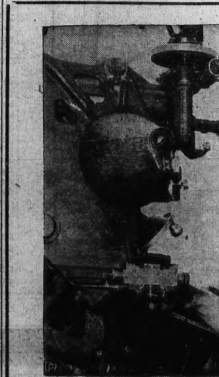

The week June 29 to July 5 has been set apart by Minister of Defence Hon. Ralston as Army Week for the purpose of giving the citizens of Canada an opportunity to pay honor to the Canadian Army.

Across Canada plans are being made at all the larger centres for a week of celebration. The programme includes a wide range of events, including parades, movies, church services and dinners.

On Tuesday all restaurants, hotels, clubs and private homes will serve a typical army ration meal.

Sunday, July 5, brings the week's celebration to a close with special dedication services in all churches.

BLAIRMORE TO CELEBRATE

CN DOMINION DAY

Should the weatherman act a little more kindly, Blainmore promises a big day of events on Wednesday next, July 1st, Dominion Day.

A splendid programme of field sports has been arranged, with a very big band on hand during the day, and troops being on hand to lead off the big parade promptly at 1.30.

Big features will be the marathon and bicycle races, and baseball and softball competitions. See bills for further particulars.

A special attraction at the Turle Mountain Playgrounds on Thursday and Friday of next week will be Mr. Paulinguen, world famous swimmer and performer.

Following a business session on Wednesday night, members of the Blainmore Legion, B.E.S.L., enjoyed a smoker concert. Assisting in the programme were Professor H. Harrison in sleight-of-hand work, "Pat" Rhys, Ed. Womersley and others in vocal selections.

This moon of ours came in on the 13th of June, and sure has been a wet one. HIS SPECIALTY IS HEAVY ARTILLERY

Every man in Canada's Army is a specialist in at least one branch of military practice. Because officers of all training centres are drawn from many arms of the service, soldiers are familiar with the functions of the other branches, prepared for any co-operative plan of attack on short notice. At Petawawa, for instance artillerymen like the resolve, chap setting his sights in the above photograph are prepared for co-operation with infantry, Royal Canadian Air Force, the tank corps and any other force with which they may be combined in an operation. At every camp in Canada's network of training centres the programme is proceeding, building a striking force which every day grows in size and strength.

WORLD HAPPENINGS

Rudolf Besier, 63, dramatist, whose works included: "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," died recently at his home in Surrey, England.

Iron ore with a metallic content of 65 per cent. has been discovered in central Nova Scotia in the Five Islands and Economy Mountain areas.

Costa Rica, Central American republic which declared war on the Axis last December, has the smallest "navy" in the world, an old 22-ton converted yacht acquired in 1941.

It was learned that Dominion Government geologists and topographers now are exploring the Peace River area of British Columbia to ascertain its petroleum possibilities.

George Yandell, one of Scotland Yard's "Big Six" and an expert on forgery cases, has been placed in charge of the fight against black marketeers and the tracking down of food ration coupon forgers.

The elementary Flying Training School at Malton airport, near Toronto, is to be moved shortly to De Winton, Alta. It was learned officially at Royal Canadian Air Force headquarters.

Sabotage is dislocating the German war machine in Holland. "A death's hand now grips the municipal and national administration which is in a chaotic state," said a Hollander who escaped to Britain.

Though a high physical standard, and much initiative and enterprise are demanded of all volunteers for commands, so great is the rush for this service that only 25 per cent. of the applicants can be accepted at present.

Lucky Escape

Lone Man Reported To Have Escaped From Czech Village Of Lidice

Jan Masaryk, foreign minister of the Czechoslovakian government in London, said he had reports that a lone man had escaped from the Czech village of Lidice which was wiped out by the Nazis in reprisal for the slaying of Reinhard Heydrich, but that the man was still somewhere in Czechoslovakia.

Referring to the escaped man as "the only man of that town still living," Masaryk said "our sources of information will have to be extremely guarded and care must be taken lest the man be endangered, but attempts will be made to reach him."

He said he did not know the man's name nor any further details regarding his escape.

From Conquered People

Nazis Confiscate Enough To More Than Finance War

The Nazis are wringing 4 1/2 billion dollars annually, mostly in goods, from the conquered peoples of Europe, the Foreign Policy Association said.

During the last three years they have confiscated and looted enough material wealth to pay for several years of war preparation, said the association, a private research organization.

Ernest Hodiger, staff member who prepared the report for the association, estimated that every 41 days Germany collects a sum equal to the total it was ordered to pay as reparation for the World War.

This system of plunder, he said, has brought the conquered countries of Europe to the "verge of famine."

"The health of the European people is rapidly being impaired and the danger exists that, without sufficient food, living in unhealthy houses in the bitter winter cold, most of occupied Europe's men, women and children may gradually drift into a state of physical weakness that will reduce them to sub-human standards," he continued.

"Their speedy liberation from Nazi domination is therefore the first condition of their salvation and the survival of democracy in Europe."

Military conquest, the survey said, has been accompanied not only by wholesale confiscation of everything of immediate use to the German war machine, but also by the application of an entirely new system of invisible and permanent looting. It added:

"By imposing so-called occupation costs and exacting other financial tribute Germany has been able, while keeping the appearance of legality, to oblige the vanquished nations to finance its purchases, thus succeeding to a very large extent in saddling the costs of its war on them."

More To Follow

People In Germany Know Britain Will Continue Bombing Raids

To the Germans in bombed Cologne said Essen, the most terrifying thought of all must be that Britain's air power is increasing so enormously. It is in the third year of the war that these devastating blows have been struck; the earlier raids, which served their purpose at the time, are now serving a larger purpose in showing, by contrast, the tremendous increase in Britain's strength. That thought leaves no room for comfort or for hope; there is now only the grim knowledge that their enemies are gaining power as the war goes on, and that there can be no escape from the punishment that will come again and again. If Hitler promises vengeance they cannot help but remember that his past promises were followed by such awful consequences to themselves.

That the Nazis will try to wreak vengeance on British cities is to be expected and it is not to be assumed that the recent raids on Canterbury and other small towns are the most they will be able to do. It may safely be assumed, however, that with the Russian front to take care of, they will never be able to match the growing might of Britain and the United States in the west. For whatever they can do, the British people are prepared, and British defenses are better able to deal with attacking planes than ever before. And whatever they do, nothing will shake the courage or confidence of the British people, courage and confidence that are founded on sure knowledge and not on vainglorious boasts—Toronto Telegram.

Invented War Car

Young Boy Was Commended By Australian Army Minister

Twelve-year-old Jim Phillips, Adelaide, Australia, was too young to join the navy. So he invented a new type munitions and troop carrier that brought special commendation from F. M. Forde, army minister.

"I wanted to show dad I was doing my bit to help Australia win the war, so I invented a vehicle to get men and munitions quickly to the front lines," he explained.

TREATMENT OF SUNBURN

Sunburn is among the dangerous seasonal ailments according to industrial medicine authorities who state that during summer months it causes a greater loss of working time than any other ailment. Dr. Gordon Bates, General Director of the Health League of Canada warns. This year the urgency for wartime production in Canada's industries and farms, medical men suggest that people should be on guard against excessive exposure, especially on week-end outings and picnics.

For those who are only moderately sunburned, medical men suggest use of a tannic acid jelly preparation or application of tannic acid solution in packs to burned parts. This can be used liberally and is an inexpensive remedy. Solutions should be used while still fresh or prepared with distilled or sterile water.

Physicians warn against the use of grease, especially in badly burned cases, because in case of infection the doctor must first remove the grease, a process which may be painful to the patient.

Guard Food Supplies

Britain Has Method Of Treating Food Contaminated With Gas

It gas should be used against Britain, arrangements have been made to safeguard the nation's food supplies against contamination.

It has taken some years to perfect the countrywide service which today stands ready to salvage any foodstuffs which may be exposed to gas. Air Raid Precautions experts are experimenting on the salvage of gas-contaminated foods before war began and today, although no unit has had to go into action, the service stands at the alert, ready for emergency.

The backbone of the service is the growing chain of food "laundries" for cleaning the food, now built up throughout the country. The "laundries" are staffed by civil defence personnel, working in co-operation with the local authorities. It is estimated that these decontamination units could salvage ninety per cent. of the food treated.—Bulletin from Britain.

RIDE SAFELY

Now, boys, I'm going to talk to you and give you some advice; When some of you are on your bikes, your conduct is not nice. Sometimes you ride a lot too fast and think you're pretty smart, And whistle shrilly through your teeth to give old folks a start.

I've seen quite often, by a lane, some old or crippled folk, And some young ape upon a bike who thinks it's quite a joke. Because he comes from out the lane as fast as he can go, And misses running into them by just an inch or so.

Now, why not start while you are young to heed the Golden Rule. (I'm sure your teacher taught you that when first you went to school.) And don't forget, a day may come when you are aged, too, And then you'll know there's nothing smart in doing what you do.

I do not want to see you hurt, or die before your time, So take a hint from what I'm saying in this little rhyme.

Ride as you should, obey the law, and have a light at night, And when you overtake a car, don't pass it on the right.

Some boys who carry telegrams—just notice how they ride— They stand instead of sitting down, and plunge from side to side; And then they almost run you down, to scare your daylight out, (And likely on the sidewalk, too, when cops are not about.)

Then when they've ridden half a block they have a sudden thought, So round they turn in front of cars and seem to care for naught. Then back they come—the way they went (not on the proper side), With still a seat upon their bike—yet standing up to ride.

—Capt. S. Dural.

THE NEW CREED

I will start anew this morning with a higher, fairer creed,
I will quit this fool complaining of my next door neighbor's greed.
I will cease to sit repining while my duty's call is clear,
I will waste no moment whining, and my heart shall know no fear.
I will look sometimes about me for the things that merit praise;
I will search for hidden beauties that elude the grumbler's gaze;
I will try to find contentment in the path that I must tread,
I will cease to have resentment when another moves ahead.
I will not be swayed by envy when my rival's strength is shown,
I will not deny his merit, but I'll try to prove my own;
I will try to see the beauty spread before me, rain or shine;
I will cease to preach your duty, and be more content with mine.

WHAT YE EDITOR GETTETH!

Behold! a maiden groweth up and graduateth and the editor putteth in the paper a swell piece; yea, a peach of a notice. He telleth all about the wisdom of the young woman and of her exceeding comeliness. Like unto the roses of Sharon is she, and her gown is played up to beat the band. And the dressmaker getteth two score and ten dollars; the editor getteth a note of thanks—maybe.

And the daughter goeth on a long journey. And the editor throweth himself on the story of the farewell party. It runneth a column 8-point solid. And the fair one remembereth him from afar with a card.

Behold, she returneth and the town felleth down and worshipeth. She picketh one and, lo! she picketh a lemon! But the editor calleth him one of our promising young men and getteth away with it. And they send unto the editor an invitation to the wedding, but the invitation was printed in a far city.

Flowery and long the wedding no-

The editor printeth a death notice, two columns of obituary, three lodge notices, a cubic of poetry, and a card of thanks. And he forgetteth to read proof on the dead, and it reads: "Gone to Her Last Roasting Place."

And all that are akin to the deceased jumpeth on the editor with exceeding great jumps. And they pulleth out their ads and cancelleth their subscriptions, and they swing the hammer even unto the third and fourth generation.

CANNING OF FRUITS WITHOUT SUGAR

There have been a number of inquiries regarding the canning of fruits without sugar. From Miss Vera Richards, of the agricultural extension services, comes the following information:

While the shape, color and flavor of the fruits are retained better when some sugar is added, fruits may be canned safely without sugar. It is best to can the juicy fruits such as berries, cherries, currants and plums in their own juices when sugar is omitted. Water is not required. Extract the juice from the ripe fruits by crushing, heat and strain. Pack the remaining fruit closely into jars without pre-heating and add boiling hot juices to cover. Seal and process. The less juicy fruits, such as apples, peaches and pears, require the addition of water. Use only the smallest quantity of water necessary. Follow the general directions for canning, substituting water for syrup. Fruits for pie-making are commonly canned without sugar.

Any fruit may be canned with honey in place of sugar. Mild flavored honeys are best for general canning purposes.

Spley flavored honey may be incorporated in pickles and also conserves made from tart fruits, such as gooseberries and rhubarb. For strawberries, raspberries, peaches, pears, sweet cherries use a syrup of one cup of honey to two cups of water. To prepare syrup, use a large kettle (as honey tends to foam), bring water to boiling point, add honey, let come to rolling boil, skim and use. Process with usual canning method.

No word has yet been received as to the date of the Castle River Stampede.

Hille's private income, derived from the Nant publishing company, which publishes Main Street and all the party newspapers, and from the Hille's levy on the wage bill of German industry, is calculated to amount to no less than $10,000,000 per annum. This is his personal income. Some of it is spent in huge presents or bribes. He is certainly the greatest war profiteer in history. If he were in England, he would be subject to $9,745,000 income tax annually.

An addition, plus repairs, has been made to the Crow's Nest Pass Funeral Home by Mr. Ferguson.

Eight teachers of the Mudgeare district who held a one-day strike last month in protest against the salary schedule, received notice of their dismissals from the school board last week.

A stampede scheduled to be held recently in a northern Alberta town, was cancelled and transferred to a neighboring town, where business people came through more liberally to support it.

WATERTON LAKES NATIONAL PARK

Waterton Lakes National Park is the Canadian section of the Waterton Glacier International Peace Park which in 1932 was dedicated to the lasting friendship between the peoples of the two great Western Democracies. Here nature's colorings and carvings are so exquisite that "seeing is believing." No description, however vivid, could adequately portray the multi-colored beauty of its magnificent peaks. Some are formed of light grey limestones, others are splashed and banded with bright reds, greys and yellows. Some are humped and massive, while others are carved into shapes so fantastic as to suggest towers and turrets of a fairy-land castle.

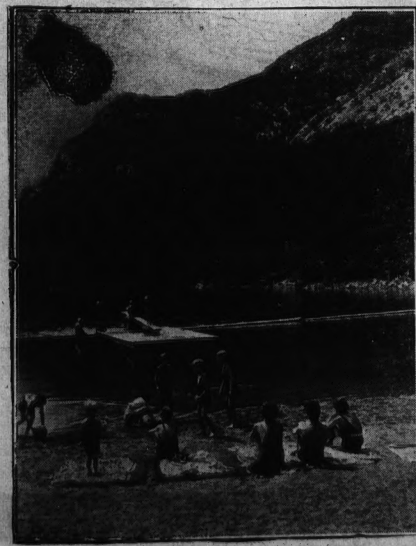

As the name suggests, it is a region of lakes which nestle in hollows gouged by glacial action and fed by streams which tear their way through spectacular gorges or leap over towering precipices—seeming to pour out of the sky.

The park is a noted wild life sanctuary and also a favored spot for the angler. Once the rich hunting ground of the Indian and the home of large herds of buffalo, the region has been the scene of many a tribal clash and exciting chase. Today it is a symbol of peace and harmony where wild life thrives unmolested, and neighboring peoples fraternize in a spirit of good will and understanding.

A new postage stamp for St. Pierre-Miquelon, showing a fishing boat and a sextant, is the latest in the series issued for the Free French colonies. Only a few weeks after General de Gaulle's troops landed on the islands, orders for the new issue were placed with the London printers of stamps for Britain and her colonies.

WET OR DRY, ALL MUST DIE

The horse and mule live 30 years, And nothing know of wines or beers. The goat and sheep at 20 die, And never taste a Scotch or Rye. The cow drinks water by the ton, And at 18 is mostly done. The dog at 15 cashes in, Without the aid of rum or gin. The cat in milk and water soaks, And then at 12 it always creaks. The modest, sober, home-dry hen, Lays eggs for nogs, then dies at 10. All animals are strictly dry, They sinless live, and swiftly die; But sinful, sinful, run-scaked men, Survive for three score years and ten. And some of us, the mighty few, Keep drinking 'till we're 92.

THE TOWN BOUGHT A HORSE COMPLETE

Scanning our files of 1932 for our regular "Auld Lang Syne" column, we discovered the report of the sale of a horse, with all accessories, to the town of Nanton by W. A. Denoon, and subsequently the receipt of the bill of sale. The report, which we think is worthy of reproduction, was as follows:

"A few weeks ago the town bought a horse from Bill Denoon, and since then our methodical secretary-treasurer has been after Bill for a bill of sale, to be laid up in the records and archives of the town, and received the following on Monday:

"To whom it may concern, greetings:

"This is to certify that I, William Allen Denoon, of fairly sound mind and body, did on or about May 10th, 1932, according to section 4 of subsection 15, west of the 4th of the Animal Health Act, lawfully sell, dispose and deliver to the town of Nanton, through their accredited agent, one bay gelding horse, on or about 15 hands in height, white star on forehead, pale blue eyes, with a down-head (Maybe Aberhart) cast, Roman nose, pointing to the north; neck extending from ears to shoulders with a slight arch; body round, like Aberhart's, suitable for saddle or harness, enclosing heart, lungs and stomach, in fair condition, but of not much value. Permanent waved tail, liberally diffused with white. One rear hind foot sprinkled with white on a dark background. Hoofs of common garden variety. Branded 'ED' on the left front shoulder. Horse is noted for its speed, and not interested in politics.—Ex.

GROWN IN SUNNY SOUTHERN ONTARIO

Dominion Day

AS ANOTHER anniversary of the founding of our Dominion passes into history, Canadians may feel with pride that the hopes and visions of the men who brought about Confederation have been fulfilled. At no time in the seventy-five years since Confederation have world-shaking events been recorded in such quick succession as they have in this year. As a full-fledged nation, beside other freedom loving people of the world, Canada has taken her place in the grim struggle to maintain the principles on which our national unity is based. Freedom of speech, freedom of religion, the advancement of learning and the right of everyone to enjoy the privileges of a free citizen, these are the things which Canadians have always known and enjoyed and for which they are fighting to maintain.

A Milestone In History

The passing of this milestone in the history of our country finds Canadian soldiers, sailors and airmen in many parts of the world; in England, in Libya, in Malaya and Hong Kong. Many of them are guarding our own coasts. On farms and in factories across the country, workers are producing supplies for our armed forces and for those of our Allies. Because of our fortunate geographic position, and the watchful eye of the British Navy, we have so far been spared the horror of having war actually reach our shores. There have been submarines in the St. Lawrence River and some Japanese planes near the coast of Alaska, but as yet only those in our armed forces and their families have felt in any great degree, the real hardship of war.

Must Face The Future

The extra taxes, the rations and shortages of some commodities which we have experienced have affected our lives, but we as yet know nothing of the sacrifice and effort made by the people of England, Russia and China, or the horrors experienced by those living in the occupied countries. Canada has at the moment internal problems. There have been others in the past and there will doubtless be more in the future. Understanding and breadth of outlook by all those living in the Dominion, are essential in solving these problems. As they have risen to face and solve the many difficulties in building up the war effort, so Canadians must face and solve their internal difficulties. As we begin another year of our national life, we in Canada have much for which to be thankful, and many achievements to make us proud, and to give us courage to face the future.

Tried Camouflage

But Dummy Furnaces In Essen Did Not Deceive R.A.F.

German camouflage experts, fearful of raids on Essen, were revealed to have built many dummy blast furnaces some distance from Essen's main targets in an effort to deceive enemy raiders.

Joseph W. Grigg, Jr., former United Press manager in Berlin, who arrived in London after five months' internment in Germany, said that the "ersatz" targets were built at Essen in the same manner that dummy "Berlins" were constructed.

"The blast furnaces of the Ruhr Valley, including those at Essen, Dortmund and Gelsenkirchen, were visible for miles at night because their flaming smokestacks were perfect beacons for bombers," Grigg said.

"To guard against this the Germans constructed a large number of dummy blast furnaces, belching smoke and flames at night like the real ones in an attempt to deceive the R.A.F. bombers."

Money From Salvage

Nova Scotia Fishermen Were Paid Nice Sum For Work

Goods salvaged from a merchant ship which ran aground off Nova Scotia netted fishermen $25,000, H. N. M. Stanbury, provincial salvage organizer, said. Tons of lard, in cases, barrels and floating free on the surface like miniature ice floes, were garnered by the fishermen, in addition to tins and other supplies of many kinds. One fisherman alone, it was reported, received $1,549 in salvage tolls for his few weeks' work.

The Individual Citizen's Army

A Weekly Column About This And That In The Canadian Army.
By Alan Maurice Irwin

National unity is a term that has been loosely, often much too loosely, interpreted to mean the interrelation of English and French speaking Canadians. So generally accepted has this interpretation become that most of us seem to have forgotten that national unity is non-existent so long as the tribulations of Canadians in any of the provinces are not shared by Canadians in the other provinces.

What prompts this sermonizing is the recent flurry over the reduction of the gasoline rationing unit in the Maritime Provinces from five gallons to two due to a shortage which by the time this reaches print may have disappeared. There was a perfectly natural feeling down east that it was not fair that Maritimers should be on "short commons" when drivers in the other six provinces still could obtain their full ration.

Ottawa answered by pointing out reasons that fully justified the reduction.

All of this is a preamble to the charge that we are falling to live up to our privilege of serving in the ranks of the Individual Citizen's Army.

How?

It should be obvious!

Have we in the central and western parts of the country any moral right to five gallons of gasoline when because of transportation or any other difficulties, fellow private in our behind the lines army—who are much closer to actual warfare and potential attack—have to be reduced to two gallons.

Why, if there is true national unity, do we not spare the public embarrassment of Ministers we employ to govern us by voluntarily reducing our consumption of gasoline to the lowest level forced upon any geographical section of the Dominion?

Citizens of countries where "verboten" is a familiar word and garbled accounts of our provincial differences, accounts that are magnified to the point of making some of us appear to be "oppressed minorities," when such stories are published. But the fact that such stories are published is the fault of the citizens who fail to give the lead to those they have set in authority.

We cheerfully and voluntarily ration ourselves in the use of tea, coffee, and sugar. Why not ration ourselves in the use of gasoline? If we can drink our fewer cups of tea and coffee unsweetened why can't we walk a mile or two and save the gasoline we would have used for war uses?

Across this country from coast to coast business experts are devoting their talents to the working out of a system of price and supply control that will spare us the horrors of inflation and maintain stocks of essential war goods for our fighting forces. Some of these men serve without pay the others—away from their normal occupations—sacrifice the normal advancements and promotions they could expect if they stayed in their own jobs.

These men don't enjoy restricting and controlling their neighbours—they take a Nazi mentality to enjoy that sort of thing—and they welcome action on the part of Canadians that makes their work easier.

Why can't we then, who are all out to win the war in the best way we can, make rationing and control unnecessary. Surely we can stint ourselves for the common good!

The soldier who leaves a $150 a month job to volunteer to serve in uniform for (in the case of a single man) a little more than half of that amount has voluntarily rationed himself much more severely than we have been called upon.

Sugar, tea, coffee, gasoline and tires, as it is written, are the rationed commodities. It's funny how some of them tie in with each other. The use of less sugar reduces the "spare tires" some of us carry around. The use of less gasoline increases the life of "spare tires" we cannot replace.

Have you joined the Reserve Army yet? Encouraging signs are visible in some parts of the country since this workable body was set up to give those ineligible for active service overseas a chance to train themselves for home defence but I have not heard any commanding officer say yet that he can't handle any more recruits.

That's another branch of the Individual Citizen's Army!

There are no "national" holidays in the United States. Each state has jurisdiction over the holidays to be observed.

Conditions On Jap Ships

Living Quarters So Crowded Disease Is Prevalent Among Troops. The Communist newspaper New China, Daily News published an article said to have been written by a Japanese prisoner of war declaring that "poor nutrition and sleeping quarters more than counter-balance the heavier guns and higher speed of Japanese warships."

"Most Japanese sailors are crowded on lower decks," the article said. "Japanese naval officers' cock at American and British warships as tourist boats, but the Japanese seamen have no love for their own slave runners."

"For example, more than 1,000 out of 1,500 members of the crew of the Japanese battleship Hyuga (completed in 1918) were housed on lower decks in bunks which take up even the passages. The sailors sleep rubbing shoulders with each other. The foul air causes a number of diseases, mostly pleurisy and weak lungs."

A number of collisions, groundings and explosions aboard Japanese warships resulted from decreased efficiency caused by the poor living conditions, the article stated. It said known instances included a collision of the Hyuga and a submarine off Western Japan and an explosion aboard a cruiser of the Myoka class.

The Japanese navy has a dread of air attacks, the article added, because most of the deck armor has been sacrificed for more guns and higher speed.

New Treaties Are Acclaimed By The Russians

Moscow. — Thundering a vote of complete confidence, the Supreme Soviet, at its first wartime session, ceremonially approved the Anglo-Russian Treaty after hearing Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov express the deep hope that the "common enemy soon will feel on his own skin the mighty blows" of Russia, Britain and the United States.

Molotov told the cheering Russian parliament, as Premier-Defence Commissar Joseph Stalin nodded agreement, that the question of a second front in Europe was given "serious attention" both in London and in Washington. In the latter city Molotov concluded a full understanding with the United States on the war and on post-war problems.

(The three great world powers announced on June 11 that they had reached complete understandings on "the urgent tasks of creating a second front in Europe in 1942.")

Molotov disclosed that President Roosevelt had cabled an invitation to the trip which resulted in the Washington agreement.

He told the Supreme Soviet that the Washington agreement would accelerate and increase deliveries to the Soviet Union in spite of the damaging Axis attacks on convoys destined for Murmansk and Archangel, Soviet Arctic ports.

He declared that although several Allied ships had been sunk en route to the Soviet Union, such attacks had not prevented increased deliveries.

Molotov revealed that the new agreement with the United States envisaged American aid amounting to $3,000,000,000.

The Supreme Soviet officially approved these resolutions:

1. To approve the government foreign policy.
2. To ratify the treaty between Russia and Britain on the "alliance in the war against Hitlerite Germany and her associates in Europe and on collaboration and mutual assistance thereafter."

The treaty was signed in London May 26.

Molotov declared that the conversations in London and Washington strengthened the conviction that "victory over German imperialism will be considerably faster."

Stalin, in his first public appearance of the war, received a three-minute ovation which was stopped when a bell rang.

Standing behind Stalin, in full field uniform, was Marshal Kliment Voroshilov, hero of the Leninград stand, and now commander of Russia's Far Eastern forces.

BLAST SUB BASE

Deliver Heavy Blow To Nazi Submarine Production

London. — British and Canadian flyers delivered a heavy blow to Germany's submarine production in the heavy bombing of Emden, June 6, which resulted in "large areas of destruction," the air ministry news service announced.

It said photographs taken on reconnaissance flights showed that one large ship built since the start of the Nordwerke shipbuilding yards had been destroyed by flames.

Another large ship in the same yards was listed as severely damaged, along with nine smaller buildings burned out and two large warehouse-type buildings demolished.

SITUATION EASED

Canada Said To Have Passed Acute Beef Shortage Period

Winnipeg. — S. F. Griedale, deputy food administrator, wartime prices and trade board, said in an interview here he is confident Canada has passed the most acute period in beef shortages. En route to Ottawa after a tour of western centres, he said there is no scarcity of beef west of Winnipeg. Equalization of prices with United States markets had made it just as profitable for the farmer to sell his stock for domestic use as to export them.

TO PAY FOR CRIMES

London. — The Czech-Slovakian government, meeting under the chairmanship of President Eduard Beneš, resolved that all Germans, from Hitler down to the last Elite guard and Nazi storm trooper, "responsible or crimes committed in Czechoslovakia will not escape their well-deserved punishment" after the war.

COST IS MOUNTING

Britain Now Spending $94,350,000 Every Week For War Purposes

London. — The House of Commons voted a new £1,000,000,000 ($4,450,000,000) credit for war purposes at the request of Sir Kingsley Wood, chancellor of the exchequer, who said it brought Britain's total authorization during "the costliest war in history" to £10,050,000,000 ($44,702,000,000).

Britain's rate of government expenditure recently has risen to $84,350,000 a week, Sir Kingsley added.

He said that votes of credit already given, not counting the new request, exceeded the total of those granted from 1914 to 1919 by $300,000,000.

"This is by far the costliest war in history but this does not dismay us," declared the chancellor. "There will be no faltering in the financial or any other sphere."

It is two years ago, the chancellor added, "since we left behind the actual highest rate of expenditure at any one time in the last Great War."

Even in the past year, he observed, the daily expenditure had increased by $2,000,000.

Army Will Play Important Part In Winning War

Ottawa. — The "big innings" of the army in the present war is coming soon, Lt-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of the general staff and acting commander-in-chief of the west coast defences, said in a broadcast speech directed to all soldiers in Canada, but particularly to junior officers.

The past two and one-half years of war have belonged to the navy and the air force, Gen. Stuart said. The army had hard training but little fighting. The navy and the air force had avoided defeat but it was necessary to win the war and the army would have to do that by the "physical occupation of territory."

The general asked the public to visit the army during Army Week (June 26 to July 5). He asked the army to do its bit in interpreting itself to the public.

"Victory cannot be attained without the active participation of the army. We now are on the road to victory and the great opportunity for the army will soon present itself."

"The war was at a critical stage. It was time for every soldier to take stock of himself so that the army could not only match but improve upon the efforts of the enemy. He asked junior officers to examine their activities in the light of the application of them to moral, mental and physical qualities. The moral component was by far the most important. The quality of loyalty was important in the moral sphere, loyalty to superiors, loyalty to subordinates and loyalty to truth.

A junior officer had to look to the interests of his men and if he found loyalty to them in apparent conflict with loyalty to his superior he would probably find a referee in loyalty to truth."

"Do not subscribe to the 'yes man' type of loyalty," said Gen. Stuart. "We have no place for such type of loyalty in the Canadian army today. We need individuals who have minds of their own and are not frightened to express their views and who are not frightened to fight for the interests of the men they command."

It was a privilege to serve in the forces. It was a greater privilege to command 50 men but it carried responsibilities. Officers should know their men individually because each was different. They should know their problems and see that each man attained a definite standard. They should be careful of punishment for it was usually an admission of failure to strike the right note.

Every job in the army had to be done in the best possible way. "To bring this about officers had to remain constantly at school, improving their military knowledge."

FOR WAR PRISONERS

Halifax. — The Canadian Red Cross is packing 40,000 boxes a week for British prisoners of war and is trying to reach an objective of 70,000 a week. Mrs. Wallace Campbell, O.B.E., national war work convener of the Canadian Red Cross, told Red Cross workers here.

London. — A new type of hut for servicemen was made of wood shavings and sawdust mixed with cement using a minimum amount of steel and timber for supports.

YUGOSLAVIA'S KING

Has Become Unofficially Engaged To Princess Alexandra Of Greece

London. — "A Londoner's Diary" in the Evening Standard said King Peter of Yugoslavia has become unofficially engaged to Princess Alexandra, daughter of Princess Aspasia and the late King Alexander of Greece. The communist attack on an official announcement is expected after the return from the United States of King George of Greece.

King Peter, 18, is an undergraduate at Cambridge University. The princess, 20, lives with her mother in a London flat. She is a cousin of the Duchess of Kent.

Vancouver. — C. S. The Bombers Of Cologne

The R.A.F., already the darling of the British Empire, which they undoubtedly saved after the fall of France, reached a new pinnacle since its raid upon the Cologne industrial centre and the promised "1,000-bombers-a-day-over-Germany." The upper photo, made after the Cologne bombing, shows a group of the pilots who participated with some of the W.A.A.F. map-makers who prepared their charts. The lower photo shows three of the gunners of one of the huge Stirling bombers, about to light up after returning to their base.

The King Inspects American Warships

DEBATE STILL ON

India's Leaders Cannot Agree On Move For Independence

New Delhi, India. — Discussions which might have a tremendous effect on war operations in this part of the world are in progress at Wardha between Mohandas K. Gandhi and other major leaders of the All-India Congress party.

After several days of conferences on whether steps should be taken to help or hinder the British war effort, three participants, Gandhi, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru and the congress president, Mahatma Abul Kalam Azad, could only say they were exploring one another's minds.

Both Azad and Nehru admittedly have disagreed on many points with Gandhi. Some observers say Nehru and Azad also disagree between themselves. All agreed on one aim — independence. But a major issue is whether to attempt to achieve it immediately or to defer a showdown until the menace of Japanese invasion has abated.

Another big issue is the announced intentions of launching a new movement to be "felt by the whole world" and certain "to engage British attention" even if it perhaps does not interfere with British military operations.

Many veteran observers in India, both Indians and Occidentals, expressed belief that Gandhi, facing sharp factional disputes within the All-India Congress party, was planning a deliberate clash with the authorities, with the attendant possibilities of jail and hunger strike. Gandhi has used these means before but not to refocus attention on himself.

Canadian Units In Alaska With U.S. Air Forces

Victoria. — Royal Canadian Air Force squadrons and anti-aircraft units of the Canadian Army have been operating for some days with the United States forces in Alaska.

Lt-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of the Canadian general staff, said in a statement released here.

Gen. Stuart, who arrived to take over temporarily as general officer commanding the Pacific command, said he had been authorized by Defence Minister Ralston to make the statement.

Gen. Stuart said he attached "considerable significance to the latest Japanese move (in the Aleutians). It is an obvious defensive attempt to neutralize, destroy or occupy such air bases in the Aleutians as can be used for 'jumping-off points' for raids on Japan by shore-based aircraft."

"It is also true that if Japan can hold the gains in the Aleutians she will be much closer to Canadian objectives than she was before. In these circumstances it is idle to say that we are not concerned with developments."

(Gen. Stuart, in an interview at Vancouver, was quoted as saying there is "no reason to be alarmed" over the "little invasion" of the Aleutian Islands by the Japanese.)

"I am afraid I could not have expressed myself clearly when questioned by the press at Vancouver recently, Gen. Stuart said.

"The implication from my statement, as reported, is that I do not place any strategic significance on recent events in the Aleutians. I would like to correct this impression."

FASCISTS TROUBLES

Talk Of Purging The Party Of Weak Members

New York. — The German radio reported that lively discussions are under way in Italy on the question of purging the Fascist party of members who are mere "ballast."

It said the matter was first broached by the Italian minister of education and now had been taken up by the leading Fascist monthly magazine "Gerarchia," which said the party was "full of people who joined it without inner conviction" and that mass admission had "proved only too often a burden."

SHORTAGE OF NURSES

Vancouver. — Dr. Stewart Murray, city medical health officer, told the monthly meeting of the Metropolitan health committee that one ward of the General hospital here already has been closed owing to an acute shortage of graduate nurses and other hospital services will be curtailed for the same reason.

Dramatic Trip Of Churchill To United States

The prime minister's trans-Atlantic dash to America, the second in seven months, meant only one thing to the man in the street — an offensive in 1942.

With traditional British caution sources close to the government sought to tone down the import of the visit. They termed it "strictly business" but unofficial circles were unanimous in the opinion that the Roosevelt-Churchill talks would produce "big things."

The identity of the men who accompanied the prime minister gave a tip-off to the possible subject of the talks.

The subjects to be discussed by Roosevelt and Churchill are believed to be:

1. Opening of a second front.
 2. The Anglo-Russian treaty.
 3. The shipping situation.
 4. Allied strategy in the Mediterranean, the Orient and Australia.
 5. The shipping of American supplies to Britain, Russia and China.
- The problems raised by the Allied shipping losses under Axis submarine and air attack, a matter brought up in the House of Commons, will be covered, it was believed here, as a major matter of Anglo-American naval strategy.

The two leaders are expected to exchange views on the recent developments in the Near East, particularly in the light of Axis gains in Libya, and also on the course of the war in Russia, where the Nazis are making a determined drive toward the oil-rich Caucasus.

SUGAR RATIONING

Four Classes Of Consumers Eligible Under Coupon Plan

Ottawa. — Four classes of consumers will be eligible to purchase sugar under the coupon rationing scheme which goes into effect July 1, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board said in a statement supplementing an outline of the plan given by Donald Gordon, board chairman, in a radio address.

Purchasers are classed as private consumers, industrial users, public caterers and institutions. The coupons will be used only for the private consumers.

Public caterers and operators of institutions will be required to fill out voucher forms when purchasing sugar. The new order also makes them subject to the same limit as industrial users — 70 per cent. of the quantity of sugar used in the corresponding quarter of 1941.

Public caterers must also continue to observe present regulations which forbid leaving sugar containers on tables or counters, limit a serving of sugar for beverages to three cups or two teaspoons and a serving for food to any customer to two teaspoons.

Operators of boarding houses may use the coupons of their boarders or may register as institutions.

Retailers are not permitted to sell any sugar to an industrial user, a public caterer or an operator of an institution unless the purchaser submits an application for registration as a user of sugar. The application is forwarded to the board by the retailer and names the retailer as the sole supplier of the purchaser for the quarter ending Sept. 30, 1942.

To make seasonal supplies available for processors the sugar administrator (S. R. Noble), on recommendation of the food administrator (J. G. Taggart), may make arrangements for extra supplies, over the 70 per cent. quota, to go to industrial users for preserving and canning domestic fruits and vegetables.

Coupons turned in by private consumers to their grocer will eventually reach the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. When the coupon rationing comes into effect July 1, no person may purchase sugar for himself unless he is the holder of a ration card nor may he buy sugar for any person not in his household or for any person in his household who has not a ration card.

Retailers to replace their sugar stock will be required to turn over to wholesalers the coupons they have received. The coupons are returned by the wholesaler to the board and purchases from refineries are made with a wholesale purchasing certificate.
